INTERMOCO Water Metering Solutions achieves success in the marketplace

- Sydney Water wins World's Best Practice utilising Intermoco's UDS water metering management system
- Major contract won with Tamworth Regional Council

Intermoco's UDS Water Metering Management System recognised in Worlds Best Practice Study

The Board is pleased to announce that Sydney Water, utilising Intermoco's UDS real time meter management system, has won world's "Best Practice" for metering services.

Utility Data Solutions Pty Ltd. (UDS) which was acquired by Intermoco earlier this year, is Intermoco's business division focused on delivering automated metering services and solutions to the water industry. Intermoco regards the water industry as a significant, growing market for its innovative metering solutions.

Sydney Water recently participated in an international benchmarking study involving water authorities from across Australia and overseas whereby they were awarded number one in achieving "Best Practice" status for meter reading. Sydney Water acknowledges the major role that Intermoco's UDS played in achieving this award with the UDS "real time" technology.

The UDS metering services solution provides the IT meter data management portal for the metering services of major water utilities in Australia, including Sydney Water. This Web Portal currently processes in excess of 10 million reads per annum and the solution delivers world-class performance for Australian utilities.

Gold Coast Water and over 30 water authorities throughout Australia also use the metering solution. UDS will be providing an overview of the metering services solution and the results of the benchmarking study to other Australian water utilities in coming months.

UDS wins major contract with Tamworth Regional Council

The Board is also pleased to announce that UDS has been successful in winning another contract with an Australian, regional Council. Under this contract, UDS will supply radio meter endpoints and meter data management software for Tamworth Regional Council, NSW. The contract will involve fitting radio devices to a range of residential and commercial properties in Tamworth. UDS won this contract in competition with a number of international competitors. Initially, in excess of 500 meter points will be serviced.
