ASX Announcement

Extension of Sydney Water contract

Intermoco Limited (ASX: INT) is pleased to announce that Utiligy's Utility Data Solutions (UDS), has secured a major contract extension with Sydney Water until 30 September 2010.

UDS has also been secured for further system development and enhancements over the contract period.

UDS has had a long standing relationship with Sydney Water dating back to 1997. UDS has developed and successfully implemented a number of programs for Sydney Water including Meter Exchange and Replacement System, Meter Fit and Adhoc Exchanges, Debt Recovery and Customer Self Reads.

Through a joint venture with Sydney Water, UDS has provided Sydney Water direct access to the design and configuration of an integrated website/GPRS/meter reading process management system.

These programs provide Sydney Water with a complete automated solution for fitting, reading and verifying the data from water meters to provide accurate information to account holders.

The extension of the Sydney Water contract is a vote of confidence in Utiligy's energy and water management solutions and provides a significant step in maintaining our relationship with Sydney Water and building our market share in this growing sector.
